

National vs. Special

Which Testing Program Do I Select for Accommodations or English Learner Supports?

National

Select NATIONAL if you are not proficient in English or have a documented disability requiring accommodations that can be provided at a test center. Examples include:

One and one-half time or breaks as needed with standard time

Wheelchair accessibility

Large Print (18-point font) test booklet

Mark answers in test booklet

Sign language interpreter for verbal instructions

Use of an authorized bilingual word-to-word dictionary or translated written test directions

Special

Select SPECIAL if you have a documented disability requiring accommodations that cannot be provided at a test center. Examples include:

Double time or triple time

Alternate test formats (Braille with raised line drawings, Pre-recorded audio, Screen reader software, or a Human Reader in a 1-1 setting)

Scribe to record answers, and/or a computer for the writing essay (paper based testing)
